We also will accept memberships at our meetings. The only requirement to become a member is an interest in local history (residency in the town is not required). We hope to have another good year, and we need you as a member to help it happen.

WEEZIE'S WORDS

by Louise Okoniewski

Mother Nature provided us with a perfect day for the Caboose Open House on August 13. Historical society members and town residents met at 9:30 a.m. to set up for the event. Before long, we were ready for whatever the day would bring.

Stan Weeks, Ed Woodard and Tony Bucca installed ship-lap from Kilmer's Sawmill in the receiving (now display) area of King's Station. I can't say enough about the dedication of these guys. When asked by Ron Feulner, Town Historian, to help with the inside of the station, they didn't hesitate, and met the challenge of restoring an old building. You could tell that their work was appreciated by the "oohs" and "aahs" from those who stopped by. Tony, dressed as a train engineer, managed the Station House tours, and Stan guided the Caboose tours. Ed Woodard, had been 'under the weather,' stopped by to check on the guys and give his support. The visitors included rail fans, locals, surrounding communities and people as far away as Niagara Falls.

A moment of the day was when a group of folks helped Denis Livsey of Brigham Road into the Station so he could join in the conversations and view the artifacts, pictures, and Tony's lap top showing the restoration of the Caboose, station and other train related photos. I could tell that Denis truly enjoyed the day, made possible by a couple helping hands.

Karyn Zanetti, the Town Rec and Youth Committee Director, once again helped us out by taking over 100 pictures of guests on the Caboose. You could see how much they enjoyed their keepsakes by the smiles.

Even though some members were headed to the Porter Corners School Reunion, that didn't stop them from coming by to drop off baked goods, (we had train cookies!) a donation or to lend a hand. With a shortage of our regular members, a few town residents stepped forward to help out. Tom Clute, took care of the Vintage cars. Tom has enjoyed this hobby for a number of years. His ride is a 1950 GMC pickup. Some of the other car enthusiasts were Donald Giglio, 1950 Dodge B2B Pickup;

Jim and Connie Murphy, 1935 Ford; Dick Rowland, 1978 MGB; Tom Merrills, 1951 Chevy Business Coupe; Walt Chandler, 1930 Ford Pickup Model A; Sean and Lisa Malatesta, 1956 Chevy Bel Air; and Tom Sadlon, 1921 Model T Pickup. Thanks to all.

MaryAnn Johnson, was a big help with the setup, (she can put up a tent in no time!) and working the bake sale with Alice Feulner. Gail Clute, Tom's better half, also stayed to help with the bake sale and anywhere a hand was needed.

I don't remember what time, but the Saratoga-North Creek Rail Road passed by as the event was in full swing. You couldn't see the train, but you could hear and feel it go by. It added to the ambiance of the day.

Andy Civic of Northville, played a few songs for us in the afternoon. Andy is 16 years old and has been entertaining the shoppers and vendors at the Farmers Market in Middle Grove. He has a group that tours the various farmers markets and public events. If you get a chance, stop by and listen. You'll be pleasantly surprised!

Bob and Peggy Roxbury, and Tom Merrills, of the Greenfield Fire Police, once again helped with traffic and parking cars. Without these guys, I'm sure there would have been some confusion as to where to park and what direction to exit and enter. Thank You!

Once again our members came through to make this a successful event. Donations of food and people's time to stay all day and cook, "man" the Historical booth, mix and mingle with folks, answer questions, etc., even Mike Gymarthy II donated his French Fry making skills. This is what it takes to make an event happen. That's what I enjoy about this group – we always pull together.

Mark your calendars for next August 2012. Maybe we'll be able to see the train when it goes by. Hopefully we'll see all of you!

"Galway Get Together" Community Newsletter

I am writing to let you know I have started an online bi-weekly community newsletter, sponsored by the Galway Library, called the "Galway Get Together." The purpose is to share community resources – news, information, ads, etc., within the Galway community which includes all the surrounding towns served by the Galway School District. Of course, Greenfield is included in that and I would like to have some news items from you folks. I am going to include the Farmers Market in the next issue (Aug. 1). But I would like to get any and all news items – items for sale, community announcements, etc.

To view the newsletter and subscribe (it's all totally free of course) go to www.gettogether.galwaypubliclibrary.org.

Historian's Corner

by Ron Feulner

Where has the summer gone? My list of things to do is still only half done. We are still soldiering on at the historian's office. We are there every Wednesday from 9 a.m. till about 2:30 or 3 p.m.. My volunteers are still working hard at building data bases for the two dozen, or so, scrap books and vital statistics that we have in our collection.

Early in July, they updated the list of names in the scrapbooks and now we have around 26,600 names. The volunteers read every news article in the scrapbooks and write down the Greenfield names mentioned along with the book number and page number where they can be found. This is already becoming a useful tool when someone comes into the office asking if we have any information about one or more of their ancestors. All we have to do is open the data base in our computer, and we can tell them in minutes if we have anything and where they can find it.

Building a data base for vital statistics (births, deaths, and marriages) represents another massive project that we are involved in. Joan R. Rowland has volunteered to direct this project. Historically, New York State law required that vital statistics from 1882 till present be kept by the town clerk and these records are easy to access, but before 1882, it is quite a different story. Some records were kept by the town on a sporadic basis, but other than that you have to go to other sources such as church records, burial records, diaries, etc. We have a lot of these records scattered in different places in our office, but to find them quickly is impossible. That's why Joan is working at putting together a data base similar to the scrapbook one where we will be able to scroll down a list on the computer until we find the person's name and then look opposite the name to find where the original documents are that contain the information.

These are huge projects, and they would be impossible without the dedicated work of my volunteers whom I can't thank enough for the work that they are doing. So many people are interested these days in tracking down information concerning their ancestors, and we are trying to do our part in making some of this information available to them.

I don't want to leave the impression that the volunteers (currently they are Liz Frank, Audrey Crandall, Judy Supley, Ruth Ann Assmann, Elsie Eno, Marie Ahl, Joyce Woodard, and Joan R. Rowland) are slaving away by candle light in some cold dark monastery. On the contrary, we have a bright, airy conference room with comfortable chairs. Nor are they bound to silence, I often hear them (from my office across the hall) laughing and talking while they work. Occasionally someone will read an interesting article in one of the old scrapbooks, and share it with the rest. At lunch time, we all gather in the small kitchen down the hall and share food and stories. I think they enjoy coming and I enjoy having them.

Sometimes we get involved in trying to solve little mysteries. Currently, we are trying to find the history behind a grave marker in St. Johns Cemetery that reads "65 others." We think that it must have something to do with the fact that they moved the Methodist church from cemetery hill to its present location in 1889, but we have found no written record about the stone or its meaning. If you know anything about this, please contact us.

I'm looking forward to seeing some of you on the Glass Factory Field Trip on Saturday, Sept. 17.
